With a spring in their step and a song in their hearts, cowboys and farmers alike have chased their destinies to a land that promises love, opportunity and a brighter future. This joyful production is set in an all-African-American town in the early days of the Oklahoma Territory.

Directed by Theatre Company Artistic Director Chris Cole-man in his Denver debut and choreographed by Dominique Kelley (dancer in La La Land and Bring in 'Da Noise, Bring in 'Da Funk), our production will showcase an overlooked piece of American history as one small community stakes its claim on a place that is full of hope.

RTD fare is an additional $2.60 round trip, payable in cash by you to the bus driver.

Please mail your check in right away to HR Historical Society, PO Box 631334, Highlands Ranch, CO 80163
